

The Glasgow Naturalist
Volume 25 Part 1
Contents

EDITORIAL

Lifelong natural history. Dominic J. McCafferty 1

FULL PAPERS

A 150-year old seaweed collection returns to Cumbrae. P. G. Moore 3

Historical review of a cabinet of Coleoptera from Thomas George Bishop's collection connected with James Francis Stephens. Ronald M. Dobson & E. Geoffrey Hancock 9

A check-list of the macro moths of Rowardennan, East Loch Lomondside, Stirlingshire. John T. Knowler & Neil Gregory 15

Loch Lomond and The Trossachs Tourist Map. John Mitchell 25

Morris Young's "Flora of Renfrewshire" (VC76). Richard Weddle 29

Flood meadow vegetation at Little Leny Meadows, Callander: comparison of two adjacent grazed and ungrazed meadows. Jill M. Williams 51

New records of copepods associated with ascidians from Scottish waters, including the description of a new species, Enterocola ooishiae n.sp. (Cyclopoida, Ascidicolidae), from a simple ascidian. Myles O'Reilly. 57

The diet of pine martens (Martes martes) with reference to squirrel predation in Loch Lomond and The Trossachs National Park, Scotland. William D. Paterson & Gavin Skipper 75

Water fern on the Monkland canal. P. Macpherson & E. L. S. Lindsay 83

SHORT NOTES

Delayed metamorphosis of frog tadpoles at high altitude in Perthshire. K. P. Bland 87

The Welsh clearwing in The Trossachs. John T. Knowler 89

Mating cluster behaviour in the solitary bee Colletes succinctus (Linn.), Hymenoptera, Colletidae. Pauline Lang, E. Geoffrey Hancock, Kevin J. Murphy & Robert L. Watt 90

Flowering rush at the Balmaha Marshes, Loch Lomond. John Mitchell 92

Additions to the list of Myriapoda from St Kilda. E.G. Hancock, J. Robinson, & G. B. Corbet 92

Bream (Abramis brama), a new fish species confirmed in Loch Lomond. E. C. Etheridge & C. E. Adams 93

Large shark species in northern Scottish waters. George Carter 94

Ravens stick-gathering at a potential nesting site within the Glasgow city boundaries. John Mitchell	95
Marine midges (Diptera, Chironomidae) at Wemyss Bay in the Firth of Clyde. Myles O'Reilly	96
First British record of the white-banded grapple-worm (Melinna albicincta) from deep water in the Sound of Jura. Myles O'Reilly & Stephen Nowacki	97
Tomato plants on Firth of Clyde seashores. Myles O'Reilly & Stephen Nowacki	99
Comma Polygonia c-album L. at Chatelherault, Hamilton. Louisa Hancock	99
The ant woodlouse Platyarthrus hoffmannseggii in North Ayrshire. Glyn M. Collis	100
Corrigendum: Crowson's record of 14-spot ladybird (Coleoptera: Coccinellidae) at Cleghorn Glen. Richard Weddle	100
OBITUARIES
Elizabeth Anne Crowson	101
Alexander Reid Hill	101
Jean Millar	103
BOOK REVIEWS	105
PROCEEDINGS 2006, 2007	110